Based in the Hudson Valley since 2006, The Architectual specializes in archival photography, aerials, and room panoramas (using video as a medium). Founded by David Walters and his Dreamclay Pictures production company, The Architectual offers high-end marketing and archival content to interior design firms and architectural clients. We have produced imagery for well-known firms, such as Snohetta, Fogarty Finger, Atelier NY, Gary Paul Company, and Reddymade, to name a few.

We have also collaborated on video and still projects with engineering and fabrication firms, such as Frener & Reifer, Roschmann Group, and Workspace 11 among others. With an acute attention to detail, we have produced catalog photography for iconic textile brands, including DesignTex, Geiger International, and Herman Miller.

As lifelong residents of the Hudson Valley, our small local business thrives on trusted partnerships with our clients. Having access to the latest lighting, camera technology, as well as our technical expertise, The Architectual is able to elevate projects to compete with the best in the hospitality, architecture, and design industries respectively.
